Scenic Haven

Designed by Pentaspace Design Studio, Eden Abode in Vapi, Gujarat, epitomizes the pinnacle of modern luxury and refined elegance.

Eden Abode designed by Pentaspace Design Studio is a seven-bedroom home for a joint family that spans four generations and resides harmoniously together in the tranquil environs of Vapi in Gujarat. A symbol of “unhurried urban living”, it is a reflection of the client’s requirements of a home that exudes serenity, joy, and an atmosphere of boundless happiness. With a layout spanning ground floor to two storeys, the design team worked at translating these aspirations into a tangible reality, creating a haven that resonates with calm and contentment for generations to come.

Designed by Bhakti Pote & Pragya Sanghavi, Directors, Pentaspace Design Studio, the Eden Abode spreads across a vast 10,000 sq. ft. area. Explaining their design process, Bhakti informs, “The vision our team had for this contemporary bungalow is an ode to elegance, drawing inspiration from the diverse beauty of flora and fauna. By infusing it with a myriad of elements, from intricate artifacts to vibrant paintings, we have created a space that exudes sophistication at every turn.”

The heart of the design lies in creation of dynamic, transitional spaces -- reflective of the studio's philosophy. A transactional area on the ground floor seamlessly divides the space, leading into a tranquil courtyard and a cosy LCD room, fostering a sense of fluidity and interconnectedness throughout the home. Pragma further adds, "On the first floor, the family room and mandir area are thoughtfully curated with a contemporary aesthetic in mind. A defining feature is the strategically positioned arch wall, which serves as a focal point, gracefully separating the family room from the sacred space of the mandir, adding a touch of grandeur to the entire ensemble." The thematic journey continues to the second floor, with meticulous attention to detail. Every bedroom is uniquely designed with bespoke planning and carefully curated colour schemes tailored to reflect the personality of its occupants. "While each room radiates its distinct character, the design ethos remains rooted in understated elegance, ensuring seamless integration within the cohesive theme of the residence", says Bhakti.

The material palette exudes timeless luxury, with Italian marble, stone veneer cladding, and delicate gold leafing elevating the opulence of the space. Full-body solid colour tiles and engineering wooden flooring add durability and style to every corner. A sophisticated colour scheme of greys, whites, and pastels infuses each space with tranquillity, creating a cohesive and inviting atmosphere.

Eden Abode points to the transformative power of thoughtful design. With meticulous attention to detail and a bespoke approach to design, this one-of-a-kind bungalow offers a truly exceptional living experience, seamlessly blending luxury, functionality, and timeless elegance.
